

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

OUTLINES of ENGLISH COMPOSITION for ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS. With Exercises. By WALTER SCOTT DALGLEISH, M.A., Author of "English Composition in Prose and Verse," etc. Price 6d.—The KEY, price 4d.

This is mainly a book of Exercises. The Author has made his explanations as few and brief as possible, and has developed the method of the book rather in the order and nature of the Exercises, than in formal exposition.

"We recommend to schoolmasters Mr Dalgleish's method of presenting the young essay-writer with a scheme on which his essay should be constructed. The plan is exceedingly simple. There is the 'general description,' the 'particular description,' and the 'reflection': an example is presented, and subjects to be similarly treated follow. This suggests to the pupil a mode of handling a topic, and he will soon enough learn to throw away the crutches."—School Board Chronicle.

PREFACE.

WHATEVER force there may be in the complaint that in many schools an undue proportion of time has been assigned to Classics, the teaching of the Latin language must continue to hold an important place in every well-ordered educational programme. At the same time, considering the claims of other branches of study, it is of the utmost consequence that instruction in the elements of Latin should be cumbered as little as possible by what may be looked on as superfluous or extraneous.

In the present work an attempt has been made to supply, in a compendious form and at a very moderate price, what may be at once a suitable first year's course for classical pupils, and an introduction to Latin sufficient for pupils who intend to join the "modern side" in our secondary schools.

It has been considered advisable to keep the Exercises distinct from the Grammar, except that copious lists of words to be declined are given from the first, with a view to familiarize the learner with the inflections. All the grammatical principles and forms, which it is thought essential that beginners should commit to memory, are presented without any attempt at novelty in arrangement or treatment. The general plan of this part of the work is based on the excellent method of Ruddiman.

The Exercises at the end of the book may be commenced when the pupil has mastered the regular verbs. They have been carefully graduated, and are designed to exhibit the general structure and the commonest idioms of the language. As the translation of English into Latin will be found at first to be considerably more difficult than the translation of Latin into English, the second part of each exercise is more or less closely modelled on the first part.

Great care has been taken to render the work accurate and trustworthy. It will, it is believed, be found sufficiently complete in itself to obviate the need of any other text-book till the pupil proceeds to read the easier Latin authors.

LATIN VOCABULARY,	113
ENGLISH VOCABULARY,	133

FIRST LATIN COURSE.

1. THE Latin Alphabet is the same as the English, except that it wants the letter w.

Six of the letters, a, e, i, o, u, y, are Vowels; the rest are Consonants.

The Diphthongs are ae and oe (both pronounced as ē), au, eu, ui.

2. There are eight Parts of Speech :—

Declinable.

Indeclinable.

- | | |
|---------------------------|-------------------|
| (1) Substantive, or Noun. | (5) Adverb. |
| (2) Adjective. | (6) Preposition. |
| (3) Pronoun. | (7) Conjunction. |
| (4) Verb. | (8) Interjection. |

3. There are three Genders: Masculine, Feminine, and Neuter.

The masculine and feminine are not restricted to males and females as in English.

Names of males, months, and winds, and most of the names of rivers and mountains, are masculine.

Names of females, and most of the names of countries, islands, towns, trees, and precious stones, are feminine.

A word that denotes either a male or a female, according to the sense, is said to be of Common Gender.

Indeclinable words are neuter.

4. There are two Numbers: Singular and Plural.

5. There are six Cases: Nominative, Genitive, Dative, Accusative, Vocative, and Ablative.

NOUNS.

6. Nouns are inflected by Gender, Number, and Case, according to five different Declensions, which are distinguished by the endings of the Genitive Singular.

Declensions, . . . : . . . I. II. III. IV. V.
Endings of Genitive Singular, ae i is ūs ei

7. The following general rules are observed in the declension of nouns :—

(1) All neuter nouns have the Nominative, Accusative, and Vocative alike, and have always -ā in these cases in the Plural.

(2) The Vocative is always like the Nominative, except that nouns in -us of the Second Declension have -e in the Vocative Singular.

(3) The Genitive Plural always ends in um.

(4) The Dative and Ablative Plural are always alike.

FIRST DECLENSION.

Dea, a goddess; filia, a daughter; anima, the soul; equa, a mare, and a few others, have -abus, as well as -is, in the dative and ablative plural, to distinguish them from masculine nouns of the second declension.

Most of the nouns in -er are declined like liber, losing e before r in the oblique cases.

Acer, m.,	Acris, f.,	Acre, n., sharp.

The genitive plural ends in ium, and the neuter of the nominative, accusative, and vocative plural ends in ia; but comparatives, and the word vetus, old, have -um and -a, and celer, swift, dives, rich, memor, mindful, uber, fertile, and some others, have -um.

The same rule holds good with participles; thus, animo gaudenti ac libenti, with a joyful and willing mind; but in the case absolute e is used; as, Romulo regnante, because regnante is almost equivalent to rege.

COMPARISON OF ADJECTIVES.

24. There are three degrees of comparison, the Positive, the Comparative, and the Superlative.

The comparative is formed by adding -tor, the superlative by adding -issimus, to the stem of the positive, found by dropping the termination of the gen. sing.; but adjectives in -er form the superlative by adding -rimus to the nom. sing. masc.

The comparative is declined like mitior, mitior, mitius, and the superlative like bonus, bona, bonum.

Pos.	Comp.	Sup.
Altus , high (Gen. alt-i);	altior , higher;	altissimus , highest.
Mitis , meek (Gen. mit-is);	mitior , meeker;	mitissimus , meekest.
Tener , tender (Gen. tener-i);	tenerior , more tender;	tenerimus , most tender.
Acer , sharp (Gen. acr-is);	acrior , more sharp;	acerrimus , most sharp.

The following adjectives form the superlative by adding -lunus, instead of -issimus, to the stem of the positive:—

Facilis , easy.	Humilis , low.
Difficilis , difficult.	Similis , like.
Gracilis , slender.	Dissimilis , unlike.

Thus:—Pos. facilis, Comp. faciliior, Sup. facillimus.
Imbecillus or imbecillis, weak, has imbecillissimus and imbecillimus.

Verbal adjectives in -dīcus, -fīcus, and -vōlus, also providus, prudent, form the comparative and superlative by changing -us into -entior, -entissimus, as if from corresponding forms in -ens (gen. -entis), thus:—

Pos. magnificus, Comp. magnificentior, Sup. magnificentissimus.
Egēnus, needy, has egentior and egentissimus.

Many adjectives are compared by prefixing to the positive magis, more, to form the comparative; and maxime, most, or admodum or valde, very, to form the superlative; as, Pos. idoneus, fit; Comp. magis idoneus, fitter; Sup. maxime, admodum, or valde idoneus, fittest, very fit. Adjectives ending in us preceded by a vowel (except those in guus), and in ger and fer (from gero and fero) are so compared.

25. The comparison of the following adjectives is irregular:—

Pos.	Comp.	Sup.
Bonus, good,	melior,	optimus.
Malus, bad,	pejor,	pessimus.
Magnus, great,	maior,	maximus.

Sinister, on the left hand,	sinisterior,	sinistimus.
Nēquam, worthless,	nēquior,	nēquissimus.

The following have two irregular forms of the superlative:—

Extērus, outside,	exterior, outer,	extrēmus and extimus, the last.
Inferus, below,	inferior, lower,	infinus and imus, lowest.
Postērus, behind,	posterior, later,	{ postrēmus, last. postimus, posthumous.
Sūperus, above,	superior, higher,	{ summus, highest. suprēmus, last (in time).

Sacer, sacred,	_____	sacerrimus.
Vetus, old,	_____	veterrimus.

The following, with most adjectives in -ālis, -ilis, and -bilis, and some others, want the superlative :—

Pos.	Comp.	Sup.
Diuturnus, lasting,	diuturnior,	_____
Ingens, vast,	ingentior,	_____
Insignis, famous,	insignior,	_____
Juvenis, young,	junior,	_____
Opimus, rich,	opimior,	_____
Senex, old,	senior,	_____

The forms minimus natu and maximus natu serve as the superlatives of juvenis and senex.

Anterior, being before, and sequior, worse, are used in the comparative only.

NUMERALS.

26. The Numerals are divided into the following four classes :—

(3) Distributives, expressing the number taken together in each instance ; as, terni, three each time, or three to each.

Unus is declined like solus (see p. 19).

Duo, tres, and millia, are declined as follows:—

M.	F.	N.	M.	F.	N.	N.
N. Duo	duae	duo	Trēs	trēs	triā	Millia
G. Duorum	duarum	duorum	Trium	trium	trium	Millium
D. Duobus	duabus	duobus	Tribus	tribus	tribus	Millibus
A. Duos or duo	duas	duo	Trēs	trēs	triā	Millia
A. Duobus	duabus	duobus	Tribus	tribus	tribus	Millibus

Ambo, ambae, ambo, both, is declined like duo.

The Cardinals from quatuor to centum inclusive are indeclinable; the hundreds are declined like the plural of bonus.

Mille as a noun is indeclinable in the singular, with a declined plural, millia, thousands, and is followed by the gen. pl.; as, mille passuum, a thousand (of) paces, or a mile; duo millia passuum, two miles. As an adjective it is plural and indeclinable; as, mille passus, a thousand paces, or a mile.

The distinction between the cardinal and distributive numerals will be evident from the following example:—Sestertios centenos militibus dedit, he gave 100 sesterces to each of the soldiers. Sestertios centum, etc., would mean that he gave only 100 among the whole.

The distributives are used instead of the cardinals with nouns which, though plural in form, have a singular meaning; as, bina castra, two camps; binae literae, two letters (epistles).

VERBS.

34. Verbs have two Voices: the Active ending in o, and the Passive ending in or.

They have four Moods: Indicative, Subjunctive, Imperative, and Infinitive.

Three other forms are derived from the verb, and partake of its signification: the Participles, which are verbal adjectives; the Supine and the Gerund, which are verbal nouns.

Verbs have six Tenses: Present, Imperfect, Perfect, Pluperfect, Future, and Future-Perfect. The Present, Imperfect, and Future, represent an action as incomplete; and the Perfect, Pluperfect, and Future-Perfect, represent the action as completed. The Perfect has also the meaning of an Indefinite Past; thus, amavi means I loved, as well as I have loved.

Verbs have two Numbers: Singular and Plural; and three Persons in each number.

THE VERB Sum.

35. The irregular verb Sum is called an auxiliary verb because it is employed in forming certain parts of the regular verb.

REGULAR VERBS.

36. Regular verbs are inflected according to four different Conjugations, which are distinguished by the termination of the Present Infinitive Active. The First Conjugation has the Present Infinitive in -āre, as amāre, to love; the Second has -ēre, as monēre, to warn; the Third has -ĕre, as regĕre, to rule; and the Fourth has -īre, as audīre, to hear.

There are four principal parts of a verb from which all the other parts are formed, and when these are given the verb is said to be conjugated. The principal parts are the Present Indicative, the Perfect Indicative, the Supine, and the Present Infinitive, ending in the four conjugations thus :*

	Pres. Ind.	Perf. Ind.	Sup.	Pres. Inf.
I.	o	āvi	ātum	āre
II.	eo	ŕi	itum	ēre
III.	o	i	um	ĕre
IV.	io	ivi	itum	īre

From the Perfect Indicative are formed the Pluperfect and Future-Perfect Indicative, the Perfect and Pluperfect Subjunctive, and the Perfect Infinitive; from the Supine, the Future Participle Active and Perfect Participle Passive, the Future Subjunctive, and the Future Infinitives; and from the Present Infinitive, the Imperfect Subjunctive and the Imperative. The Perfect Indicative Passive and the tenses formed from it are made up of the Perfect Participle and parts of the verb sum. All the parts of the verb not mentioned above are formed from the Present Indicative.

* These are the commonest forms of the perfect and supine, but there are many exceptions.

DEPONENT VERBS.

42. Verbs that have a passive form with an active signification are called Deponent Verbs.

Deponents follow the active form in the Future Subjunctive and Future Infinitive; they have the Gerund and the Supines, and have all the Participles of both voices. In other respects they are inflected like the passives of verbs of the four regular conjugations.

The Gerundive, or Participle in dus, has always a passive meaning, and does not therefore occur in intransitive deponents, except impersonally.

Deponents are the only Latin verbs whose Perfect Participle has an active meaning, and corresponds to the English active participle with having; thus, hortatus means having exhorted. In some deponents this participle has a passive as well as an active signification.

- I. Hortor, hortatus sum, hortari, to exhort; like amor.

The verb Eo is, for the most part, inflected regularly according to the fourth conjugation. In the passive it is used only impersonally. Its compounds generally reject v in the perfect and the tenses derived from it; as, redeo, redii (rarely redivi), reditum, redire, to return. Ambio, ambivi, ambitum, ambire, to go round, is a regular verb of the fourth conjugation. Queo, I can, nequeo, I cannot, and vēneo, I am sold, are inflected like eo, but want the imperative and gerund, and veneo has no participles or supines. The compounds of eo that acquire a transitive meaning have a complete passive, as adeo, I approach, ineo, I enter.

* It is to be observed that the parts of this verb begin generally with i, but with e when the following letter is a, o, or u.

DEFECTIVE VERBS.

50. Verbs are called Defective which are used in a few parts only.

The verbs mēmīni, I remember, ōdī, I hate, and coepeī, I have begun, are called Preteritive Verbs, because they have only the Perfect Indicative and the tenses formed from it. The Perfects memini and odi have a present meaning; and novi, having also a present meaning—I know—is usually classed with these verbs, though it is really the perfect of nosco. Coepeī has a Passive form, coeptus sum, of the same meaning as the Active, used when a Passive Infinitive follows; as, urbs coepta est obsidēri, the city began to be besieged. Memini has the Imperative (2d pers. sing. and plur.), memento, mementōte; and coepi, the Participles, coeptus and coepturus.

IMPERSONAL VERBS.

51. Impersonal Verbs have no personal subject, and are used only in the third person singular. They want the Imperative (the Subjunctive being used instead of it), and generally want the Participles, Gerund, and Supines.

They are inflected thus :—

Indic.	Dēc-et	-ēbat	-ēbit	-uit	-uerat	-uerit
Subj.	Dec-eat	-ēret	—	-uerit	-uisset
Inf.	Dec-ere	—	—	-uisse

The following are the principal Impersonal Verbs :—

Dēcet me, it becomes me.

Dēdēcet me, it does not become me.

Lībet or lūbet mihi, it pleases me.

Līcet mihi, it is lawful for me, I may.

Līquet, it is obvious.

Mīseret me, it excites pity in me, I pity.

Ōportet me, it behoves me, I ought.

Pīget me, it vexes me, I regret.

Plācet mihi, it pleases me, I am pleased.

Some verbs are used Impersonally only in a peculiar sense, as :—

Accidit, evenit, contingit, or fit, it happens.

Attinet, pertinet (ad), it pertains to.

Constat, it is known.

Convénit, it suits.

Delectat, it delights.

Expedit, it is expedient.

Fallit, fugit (me), it escapes me.

Interest, refert, it concerns.

Juvat, it delights.

Praestat, it is better.

Restat, it remains.

Most verbs may be used impersonally in the Passive. Intransitive verbs, which otherwise have no Passive, are frequently used in this manner; as, curritur, it is run, people run; pugnatur, it is fought, the battle is going on, they fight. Verbs which govern the dative in the Active are used impersonally in the Passive; as, puer paret magistro, the boy obeys the master; magistro paretur, obedience is given to the master, the master is obeyed.

ADVERBS.

52. Adverbs may be divided into two classes:—(1) Simple or Primitive Adverbs, as non, not; nunc, now; saepe, often; and, (2) Derivative Adverbs, formed mostly from adjectives and participles, as longe, far, from longus; benigne, kindly, from benignus. Adverbs derived from adjectives and participles of the first and second declensions generally end in e or o; as recte, from rectus; libere, from liber; raro, from rarus; docte, from doctus. Adverbs derived from adjectives and participles of the third declension generally end in ter; as fortiter, from fortis; feliciter, from felix; prudenter, from prudens; ardenter, from ardens. Some adverbs are the same in form as the neuter of the adjectives from which they are derived, as recens, from the adjective recens; facile, from facilis.

Adverbs have no inflection except comparison. Generally speaking, those adverbs only which are derived from adjectives and participles are compared. The comparative of the adverb is the same as the neuter of the comparative of the adjective from which it is derived ; and the superlative is formed from the superlative of the adjective by changing the termination us into e ; thus :—

ADJECTIVES.	ADVERBS.
	Positive.	Comparative.	Superlative.
Aptus, fit.	Apte, fitly,	aptius,	aptissime.
Benignus, kind.	Benigne, kindly,	benignius,	benignissime.
Liber, free.	Libère, freely,	liberius,	liberrime.
Fortis, brave.	Fortiter, bravely,	fortius,	fortissime.
Celer, swift.	Celeriter, quickly,	celerius,	celerrime.
Audax, bold.	Audacter, boldly,	audacius,	audacissime.
Amans, loving.	Amanter, lovingly,	amantius,	amantissime.

Adverbs are subject to irregularities and defects of comparison similar to those of the adjectives from which they are derived ; thus :—

ADJECTIVES.	ADVERBS.
	Positive.	Comparative.	Superlative.
Bonus, good.	Bène, well,	mélius,	optime.
Facilis, easy.	Facile, easily,	facilius,	facillime.
Magnus, great.	Magnopere, greatly,	magis,	maxime.
Malus, bad.	Male, badly,	péjus,	pestime.
Multus, many.	Multum, much,	plús,	plúrimum.
Parvus, little.	Párum, little,	mínus,	mínime.
(Propinquus, near).	Própe, near,	própius,	proxime.

The following primitive adverbs are compared :—

Pos.	Comp.	Super.
Diu, long,	diútius,	diútissime.
Sæpe, often,	sæpius,	sæpissime.
Satis, enough,	sátius,	—
Sæcus, otherwise,	sæcius,	—
Núper, lately,	—	nuperrime.

The following adverbs of place are derived from pronouns :—

Hic,	húc,	hinc,	in, to, from this place.
Ille,	illúc,	illinc,	} in, to, from that place.
Istic,	istúc,	istinc,
Ibi,	eó,	inde,

Versus and tenus are put after the words they govern.

Cum is joined to the personal and relative pronouns as an affix; as, mecum, nobiscum, quocum, etc.

CONJUNCTIONS.

54. Conjunctions are either Simple, as, et, ac, sed, vel, aut, nam; or Compound, as, atque, itaque, attamen, quamvis, enimvero.

With regard to use, Conjunctions are either Co-ordinative or Subordinative. (1) The Co-ordinative Conjunctions join words, phrases, and co-ordinative clauses, but do not affect the moods of verbs; as, et, quæ, ac, atque, and; aut, vel, vè, either, or; sed, autem, but; nam, enim, for; nec, neque, neither, nor, etc. (2) The Subordinative Conjunctions, which may influence mood, join two clauses of a sentence, one of which is dependent on the other; as, ut, that; nè, lest; quid, quod, because; quum, when; si, if; nisi, unless; etsi, quamvis, although, etc.

Autem, enim, vero, quoque, quidem, are never put first in a clause or sentence. Que and ve are always joined to other words as affixes.

INTERJECTIONS.

55. The Interjections most commonly used to express emotions of joy, grief, etc., are the following:—

Joy—io, ha, he, hoi, eue.

Grief—heu, ehen, hei, vae, vah, pro or proh.

Astonishment—O, hui, hem.

Contempt—phui, apage.

Calling attention—en, ecce, eho.

Praise—euge, heia.

Other parts of speech are often used as Interjections; as, pax! peace! be still! infandum! shame! So also are invocations of the gods; as, mehercule or hercule! by Hercules! per deos! by the gods!

LIST OF VERBS.

Verbs of the First Conjugation have generally -āvi in the Perfect, and -ātum in the Supine; the Second Conjugation has -ui, -itum; and the Fourth -ivi (or -ii), -itum. The following list contains the principal deviations from these forms, and also gives the principal parts of the commonest verbs of the Third Conjugation, for which no such general rule can be laid down as for the other conjugations.

Compound verbs are usually conjugated like the verbs from which they are derived. But when the first syllable is doubled in the Perfect, the compound drops the reduplication; as, tendo, tetendi; contendo, contendi: pello, pepuli; dispello, dispuli. The compounds of do, sto, disco, and posco, and some of those of curro, are exceptions. Many compound verbs change a of the simple verb into i. These have e in the Supine, except verbs in -do and -go, and the compounds of habeo, salio, and statuo.

Iustae leges, Just laws.

3. A relative pronoun agrees with its antecedent in gender, number, and person ; as,

Ego qui scribo, I who write.
Copiae quas duxi, The forces which I led.

4. A verb agrees with its nominative in number and person ; as,

Vos laudati estis, You have been praised.

5. But the subject of a verb in the infinitive mood is in the accusative case ; as,

Gaudeo te valere, I am glad that you are well.
Dicit Gallos victos esse, He says that the Gauls were conquered.

Note 1.—This infinitive with accusative before it is used after verbs of declaring, thinking, knowing, seeing, and words of similar signification.

Note 2.—The English present infinitive is translated by a Latin future infinitive after verbs of promising, vowing, threatening, hoping ; as, Pollicitus est se venturum esse, He promised to come.

6. When a noun, coming after the verb to be, or after a verb denoting to be named, to be chosen, or the like, refers to the same person or thing as the subject of the verb, it is put in the same case; as,

Ego sum tuus frater, I am your brother.

Insula appellatur Sicilia, The island is called Sicily.

Certum est Romulum factum esse regem, It is certain that Romulus was made king.

7. Two or more singular nouns, connected by et, atque, -que, etc., generally have their verb, adjective, or relative in the plural; as,

Petrus et Joannes qui sunt docti, Peter and John who are learned.

Note.—When the nouns are of different genders, the adjective or relative is masculine if persons are spoken of, and generally neuter if things are spoken of; as, Pater materque sunt amandi, The father and mother are to be loved; Divitiæ et honores sunt incerti, Riches and honours are uncertain.

GOVERNMENT.

Government of Nouns.

8. One noun governs another in the Genitive, when they signify different things; as,

Leges naturæ, The laws of nature.

Note 1.—The nominative and accusative singular neuter of adjectives denoting quantity, are also used as nouns governing the Genitive. Plus and quod are used in this way, never agreeing with nouns.

Note 2.—Opus and usus, signifying need, govern the Ablative.

9. When the latter of two nouns is descriptive of the former, and has an adjective joined to it, it is put in the Genitive or Ablative; as,

Vir summae sapientiae, or summa sapientia, A man of the greatest wisdom.

Government of Adjectives.

Avidus gloriae, Desirous of glory.

Note.—Partitive numerals are more commonly followed by the prepositions de or ex with the ablative. This construction is not to be used when the whole number is meant, though the numeral be followed by of in English; as, Nos trecenti conjuravimus, Three hundred of us have conspired.

If the comparative be in any other case, quam is used, followed by the nominative, the verb sum being expressed or understood; as, Fungitur officio graviore quam meum (est), He discharges a duty more burdensome than mine.

Note 2.—When two qualities, expressed by adjectives, are compared, the adjectives, joined by quam, are both put in the comparative; as, Fortior quam prudentior est, He is more brave than prudent.

14. The adjectives dignus, indignus, contentus, praeditus, captus, fretus, natus, satus, ortus, editus, and the like, govern the Ablative; as,

Nihil dulcius est melle. Aestate noctes breviores sunt quam dies. Aurum gravius est argento. Terra major est lunâ, sol terrâ. Puellae timidiore sunt quam pueri. Gloria populi Romani summa erat hoc tempore. Apud Helvetios longe nobilissimus et ditissimus fuit Orgetorix. Flumen altissimum et latissimum Helvetios a Germanis dividit. Nemo illum regem crudelissimum amat. Equi et canes sunt homini utilissimi. Somnus est morti simillimus. Facta verbis multo difficiliora sunt. Romani, maximam Italiae urbem, condidit Romulus. Tarquinius Superbus ultimus rex Romanus fuit. Erat summa inopia pabuli. Proximam domum hostes jam incenderunt. Nihil est tam inimicum menti quam voluptas. In sepulchro pares divitibus pauperes sunt. Pulchra filia a patre et matre amatur. Filiae matre sua pulchriores sunt.

Nothing is sweeter than liberty. The queen is more beautiful than her beautiful daughters. In summer the days are longer than the nights. We have seen the Rhine, a very broad and deep river. The sons are very like their father and mother. The most beautiful animals are not always the most useful to man. The way (iter) was very difficult and very long. In Asia the mountains are high and the rivers are large. You are richer than I am, but I am content with little. Cicero was equal to all the Roman orators. This work is much more difficult than that. We were very poor at that time, and you were very rich. Deeds are better than words. We heard the last words of this wise man.

XVII.

Ego semper contentus sum, sed vos nunquam contenti estis. Frater meus vobis magna dona dabit. Quis est in domo tua hoc tempore? Ille dies fuit brevissimus. Ego et meus filius ambulamus in jucundo loco. Mi fili, ama virtutem et reverere sapientes viros. Non omnes sunt sapientes, qui in hac urbe habitant. Ego et meus frater laeti sumus, sed tu et tua soror tristes estis. Sunt mihi mitia poma et dulce mel. Milites omnia sua secum portabant. Et nos et nostri amici diu eramus infelices, sed nunc felices sumus. Eo die castra moverunt hostes, et Caesar idem fecit. Pueri inertes sibi inimici sunt. Romulus et Numa Pompilius insignes reges Romani fuerunt, ille in bello, hic in pace. Pax vobiscum sit. Consilio melius vinces quam iracundiâ. Amor vincit omnia; nos cedamus amori.

I am happy, but you are sorrowful. You and I have often walked in that pleasant garden. I am carrying with me all my property. Demosthenes and Cicero were famous orators; the former was a Greek, the latter a Roman. We reverence our parents and all who are wiser than we are. You and I are wiser now than we were at that time. You have sweet apples on the tree which we saw in your garden. It is better to overcome our enemies (inimici) by love than by anger. All things are easy to him who conquers by love. We love those who are kind to us. Be kind to those who are poor. We are-about-to-teach the boys whom you saw with us yesterday. All the scholars are-to-be-taught in the school which is nearest.

XVIII.

Praeceptor pueros multas lectiones docet. Pueri doceantur sapientiam. Patres nostri nos omnes haec docuerant. Pocula implentur novo vino. Servus haec nova pocula vino implebit. Terra sancta lacte et melle plena fuisse dicitur. Avarus, qui semper eget, nunquam potest esse dives. Rarissima sunt ea, quae sunt optima. Is bis dat, qui cito dat. Id utile est, quod honestum est. Non beatus est, qui scit bonum, sed qui facit. Qui multum habet, plus cupit. Is sapit, qui pauca loquitur. Tuâ pecuniâ me adjuva. Hoc paucis contigit, quia pauci digni sunt tanto honore. Adolescentes a senibus docendi sunt. Quis hujus crudelis facti accusatur? Quisque suam conditionem miserrimam putat. Natura parvo contenta est. Quid rei est?

The master is-about-to-teach us our lessons. Let us all be taught wisdom. You are to be taught wisdom by your parents. Fill the cup with wine or milk. The servant would have filled the cup with wine. Let the new cups be filled with new wine. Covetous men are not rich because they are never content. All good things are scarce. Give to the poor man bread and wine. They who have much desire more. They are happy who are content with little. Nature needs few things. The wise and learned are worthy of honour. You accused me of that cruel deed. Young men can be taught by old men. Your money has often helped the poor. What was the name of the last king of the Romans?

XIX.

Quem vidisti in ea domo? Puerum, cujus pater mortuus est, vidi. Deus, quem colimus, mundum gubernat. Cur bellum times? Milites, quibus pecuniam dux dedit, bello vicerunt. Miles fortis, quem laudas, fidem servat. Quae fuit causa proximi belli, quod jam confectum est? Legati, quos Ariovistus ad Caesarem misit, pacem petebant. Pueri, quibus praeceptor praemia dedit, semper diligentes fuerunt. Epistolam longam, quam ad me scripsisti, jam legi. Urbs magna, in qua habitamus, pulcherrima est. Nunc scio multa, quae olim nesciebam. Exercitus, quem Caesar in Galliam duxit, insignem victoriam reportavit. Non omnes arbores, quae in horto sunt, fructus ferunt. Magnum manum hostium in uno praelio interfecimus.

What books have you read? I have read the few that the master gave me. Where is the boy whose father is dead? We worship God, by whom the world is governed. Give a prize to one of these boys who are writing. The soldiers whom we have praised, gained a signal victory. The war will be finished in a short time, and the soldiers will return to their native-country. We dwell in the fine city which Romulus founded. We know now very many things of which we once were ignorant. Where do you dwell? Where are you going? Come here soon. These trees will bear much fruit. A great band of soldiers will be slain in this long war. When will the war be finished? Let us finish the work which we are now doing.

XX.

Urbs appellatur Edinburgum. Turnus, rex Rutulorum, fortissimus habebatur. Socrates vocabatur philosophus. Numa rex secundus Romanus fuit. Socrates oraculo sapientissimus iudicatus est. Cur ego poeta salutor? Caesar factus est imperator. Boni ab omnibus laudantur. Pecunia militibus data est. Discipuli boni a magistro amabuntur. Multi milites in eo praelio vulnerati sunt. Nova fratris mei domus aedificatur. Eo die acriter pugnatum est. Vinum militibus vulneratis datum est. Troja, quae a Graecis expugnata est, decem annos obsessa est. Urbs magna a Romanis oppugnata est. Virtute incolarum urbs servatur. Victor creatus est rex. Exercitus hostium fusus fugatusque est.

The city was called Rome. Cæsar has always been regarded as a distinguished leader. Cicero was called an orator. The town which Æneas built in Italy was called Lavinium. We were praised by the good. The general of our army was wounded in that battle. The temple of Vesta was built by Numa, who reigned after Romulus. Wine was given to all the soldiers who had been wounded in that battle. Carthage, a famous city in Africa, was taken by Scipio. Many new houses have been built in this city by my father. Our cities will be saved by the bravery of our soldiers. The mountain was occupied by the forces of the enemy. Numa was made king.

XXI.

Fortuna hominum saepe mutatur. Poculum a servo vino impletur. Summus mons ab hostibus occupatus est. Legati a Gallis ad Caesarem mittuntur. Copiae Romanorum a Galba ducentur. Gallis pax a Romanis data est. Socrates, omnium sapientissimus, capitis damnatus est ab Atheniensibus. Cur promissa regis non servata sunt? Epistola ad matrem a filia mittitur. Relinquebatur una via per Sequanos. Exercitus Romanorum magnus in Britanniam ductus est. Liber, qui puero datus est a magistro, ab eo amissus est. Puella, quae est diligens, a matre laudabitur. Oppidum, quod in ripa fluminis positum est, muro fossaque muniatur. Exercitus Romanus a Gallis pulsus est et sub jugum missus est.

The laws of nations have often been changed. The foot of the mountain will be occupied by the soldiers of the enemy. Ambassadors have been sent by many nations to the Romans. The cup was filled with new wine by the servant. The Gauls were conquered by the Romans in many battles. A long letter was sent by Galba to the Gauls. The slave was taken and condemned to death. Why was the letter, which was written yesterday, not sent here to me? The gifts which were given by the mother to her daughters will soon be lost. The two towns, which are built on the banks of the Rhine, have been well fortified by the Germans. The forces of the enemy were conquered and put to flight by our soldiers.

XXII.

Tota Graecia liberata est. Mardonius fugatus est. Caius legatus missus est in Africam. Hoc consilium Caesaris a plerisque non probatur. Praeclara ingenia gloriâ incitantur. Literis res secundae ornantur, adversae adjuvantur. Non modo animus irâ perturbatur, sed etiam corpus. Boni viri amicos suos nunquam negligunt. Trahimur omnes laudis studio. Homines saepe decipiuntur. Milites in partes omnes ab imperatore missi sunt. Labore vincuntur difficultates omnes. Milites spe victoriae semper delectabuntur. Ego et frater meus a magistro amabimur. Urbs ab hostibus oppugnabatur et a civibus defendebatur. Nemo unquam ignaviâ magnus factus est. Incolae Britanniae Caesaris adventu terrii sunt. Puer a me satis monitus est. Legio tertia ab Hannibale per insidias circumventa est.

The whole country will be liberated by the bravery of the inhabitants. The enemy by whom the city had been attacked was put to flight. The advice of the general is not always approved of by the soldiers. Learning adorns prosperity and helps adversity. Anger will discompose not only the mind but also the body. God will never neglect the affairs of good men. Do you not approve of my work? The general had sent his soldiers in all directions. My brother and I were helped by your advice. The master will teach you and me. The Roman forces will attack the city, but the brave citizens will defend it.

XXIII.

Admiramur florum pulchritudinem. Quis non admiratur splendorem pulchritudinemque virtutis? Imitare bonos. Caesar milites suos diu hortatus est. Quid meditaris, mi fili? Venerare Deum, reverere tuos parentes. Sapiens vir aspernabitur voluptatem. Puer facinus confessus est. Vir bonus miserorum hominum semper miserebitur. Romani gloriam magnam adepti sunt. Loquere pauca. Mater filiam amplectitur. Gloria virtutem tanquam umbra sequitur. Romani totius Galliae potiti sunt. Consul milites hortatus est, et castra hostium aggressus est.

Cicero saepe nobiscum de virtute loquebatur. Caesar Romam profectus est. Pueri saepe libris abutuntur. Bellum civile in Gallia ortum est. Culpam, mi amice, confitere.

Good men admire the wisdom of God. We all admire the beauty of your children. You and I have imitated the good. Reverence your parents, my sons, and fear God. The general had encouraged his soldiers. We will always follow virtue and despise pleasures. The dog is following the farmer into the field. Why did the dog follow the horses? Whom were you following? Will not the Roman army obtain very great glory by that victory? Caesar became master of the whole of Gaul. We have confessed our faults. The general set out for Rome. The soldiers followed their leader, and attacked the camp of the enemy. We use our books, but you are abusing yours. Did civil wars break out in Italy?

XXIV.

Cupio discere. Cupio evadere doctus. Prohibemur facere injurias. Omnes promissa debent praestare. Helvetii totius Galliae potiri conabantur. Hostes per Provinciam iter facere coeperunt. Caesar maturat ab urbe proficisci. Hannibal Alpes superare conatus est. Puer bene discere videtur. Nihil nisi injurias oblivisci debes. Helvetii cum proximis civitatibus pacem et amicitiam confirmare constituerunt. Munere tuo bene fungi debes. Animus aliquid agere semper cupit. Divitiae aestimantur magni, sed pluris aestimari debet virtus. Helvetii Orgetorigem ex vinculis causam dicere coegerunt. Galli id quod constituerant facere conantur. Conatus est Caesar reficere pontes. Turpe est mentiri. Debes hoc facere. Debuisti hoc facere.

All do not desire to live well. We desire to become learned. All good men endeavour to forget injuries. We ought to keep all our promises. You ought to have kept your promises. The Gauls will endeavour to march through the Roman province. The enemy have endeavoured to get possession of the whole province. Children ought to honour their parents. We ought to be good, not to seem (so). The general resolved to establish peace with all the states of Gaul. We have learned to forget injuries. You and I desire to perform our duty. Orgetorix was compelled by the Helvetii to plead his cause in chains. Many men seem to desire riches rather than virtue. Cæsar resolved to conquer all Gaul, and then to set out for Britain. Is it not disgraceful to lie? Did the scholars appear to be diligent?

XXV.

Ego volo legere, tu vis ambulare, puer vult ludere. Ego et tu ambulare nolumus. Tu ambulare mavis quam in domo sedere. Si beati esse volumus, virtutem amare debemus. Quod volumus, libenter credimus. Noli, mi fili, cuiquam injuriam facere. Cæsar ab Helvetiis discedere nolebat. Si vis amari, ama. Noluit Cæsar castra movere. Cur me comitari non vis? Rex maluit diligi quam metui. Aristides bonus esse malebat quam videri. Non eadem volo senex, quae volui adolescens. Nolite, iudices, Socratem innocentem condemnare. Boni esse malumus quam divites. Idem velle et idem nolle, ea firma amicitia est. Malumus cum virtute paucis contenti esse quam sine virtute habere multa.

We wish to read, you wish to write, and the boys wish to play. Do not you and I wish to walk in the garden? We prefer walking to reading. If you wish to be happy, imitate the good. Men readily believe what they wish. Why are you unwilling to walk with me? Refuse, my dear boy, to tell-a-lie. Do you wish the same things as (lit. which) I wish? A good king had-rather be loved than be feared. We had-rather be good than seem so. The Romans did not wish those places to be unoccupied. We do not desire the same things (when) old as we desired (when) young. We had-rather do good to our country than be rich. Do you wish to accompany us? If you wish to be happy, you ought to be contented with your lot.

XXVI.

Me id dicentem audivit. Divitiacus flens a Caesare haec petebat. Pater filium in horto sedentem vidit. Milites, nihil timentes, suddenly aggressive were the barbarians. Timeo Danaos, et (even) dona ferentes. Legati, ex urbe venientes, ab hostibus capti sunt. Latro, regem occisurus, ipse a rege occisus est. Dux, Romam rediens, mortuus est. Postero die Caesar, milites hortatus, praelium commisit. Caesar, paucos dies in his locis moratus, in hostes proficiscitur. Mulieres fientes sese Caesari ad pedes projecerunt. Ingens hominum multitudo in urbem congregatur ludos spectatura. Galli, Romanis bellum illaturi, deos invocaverunt. Princeps, patria expulsus, Romam fugit. Helvetii, his rebus adducti et auctoritate Orgetorigis permoti, de finibus suis exierunt. Nostri Gallos fugatos in flumen compulerunt.

Did you hear me say (lit. saying) that? The Gauls, weeping, asked help from Cæsar. The boy, (while) sitting in the garden, read a book. The king died (while) writing a letter. The enemy attacked our forces (while) crossing the river. The general, (while) returning into Italy, conquered the barbarians in many battles. The two robbers (who were) about-to-kill the king, were themselves killed by the king. The Gauls attacked us (while) about-to-cross the river. The hostages died (while) returning home. Cæsar, having followed the enemy for two days, joined battle on the third day. (After) having delayed a few days, we set out for the city. Many nations, (when) about-to-bring war on their enemies, invoked the gods. The chiefs, (on) being expelled from Rome, fled to Gaul.

XXVII

Est mihi liber. Equitatus Dumnorix praeerat. Iccius tum oppido praeerat. Caesar multis praeliis interfuit. Contemnuntur ii, qui nec sibi nec aliis prosunt. Bonis hominibus nunquam desunt amici. Omnes, qui ei praelio interfuerunt, magno in periculo fuerunt. Omnes reipublicae prodesse debemus. Ex eo praelio circiter duo millia hominum superfuerunt. Ego possum scribere, tu potes legere. Cur nobiscum ambulare non potes? Virtus non potest emori. Vitia celari non possunt. Desunt inopiae multa, avaritiae omnia. Deus speculator omnium nobis adest semper. Magno malo hominibus est avaritia. Curae est sua cuique voluptas. Magni animi est injurias despiciere. Temeritas est florentis aetatis, prudentia senectutis. Virtus plurimiam prodest, obest nemini.

We have many books (lit. many books are to us). Have you good books (lit. are good books to you)? The forces which Caesar commanded were victorious in that war. The Romans were engaged in many wars. Cicero did good to the state. Dumnorix was-at-the-head-of the Helvetian army. To the soldiers courage was not wanting. You and I have many friends. We are not able to write letters, but we are able to read them. Why are you unable to go with me? You cannot conceal your vices. Cruelty is hated by all (lit. is for hatred to all), and clemency is beloved by all (lit. is for love to all). It is (the duty) of the rich to help the poor. It is (the part) of a vain man to praise himself. It is (the duty) of the king to defend the citizens.

XXVIII.

Interfui ei praelio. Dux civibus pepercit. Aetas succedit aetati. Quid sibi volunt? Haec hiems arbori altae nocuit. Hoc bellum ei minime placebat. An rectum est improbis parcere? Idem alii prodest, alii nocet. Fortuna nobis virtutem non dat. Mulieribus puerisque parcitum est. Sapientis est tempori cedere. Militum est duci suo parere et patriam defendere. Tuum est huic vitio resistere et virtutem colere. Dona deo promissa sunt. Maxima reverentia puero debetur. Fer auxilium miseris civibus. Victor dux praedam exercitui divisit. Labienus victricibus copiis praefectus est. Nil sine magno labore vita dedit mortalibus. Helvetiis erat in animo per Provinciam iter facere. Hoc Caesari renuntiandum est.

We have all been engaged in many battles. He spared not only himself, but even his slave. It is your (duty) to obey the laws of your country, and to do good to men. Let us resist vice and cultivate virtue. Caesar set Labienus over the victorious legion. We owe many things to our parents. Will this war please the citizens? The king divided the prizes among the victorious soldiers, who had obeyed their leaders and had bravely defended their country. To whom did you give the gifts? I gave them to two women. It is (the duty) of the conqueror to spare the vanquished. You have given me all the books. The leader was obeyed, and the enemy was resisted. I wish to give money to this poor man. The disgraceful defeat was announced to the king yesterday.

XXIX.

Dux imperat militibus. Militibus non deerat fortitudo. Omnia parent divitiis. Est sapientis parere legibus patriae. Obsta principiis. Nemini noceas. Huic bono viro nocuisti. Imperat aut servit cuique pecunia. Voluptati simul et virtuti nemo servire potest. Placeat homini quidquid Deo placuit. Resistamus huic voluptati. Hannibali a Romanis diu restitum est. Hoc mihi quotidie suadebat. Persuadetur mihi a te. Romanis a Regulo, qui Romam rediit, persuasum est. Boni civis est prodesse civitati. Non creditur mendaci ne verum quidem dicenti. Inopi multa, avaro omnia desunt.

The soldier obeys the general. The consul commands the army. The soldiers will be commanded by the king himself. You, who do not command yourself, cannot command others. Be not a slave to anger, which you ought to resist. All desire to please their friends. We ought to do good to others. No one can please everybody. You persuaded me to this. The Romans were persuaded by Scipio. Do good to your country and obey its laws. Neither in bravery nor in wisdom was he wanting. You ought to have resisted the beginning of evil.

XXX.

Dicit librum esse utilem. Dixit librum esse utilem. Dicit librum fuisse utilem. Dixit librum fuisse utilem. Puer simulat se libros amare. Annon puer simulavit se libros bonos amare? Negat Publius orationem intelligere. Negat Publius orationes intellexisse. Poëta dicit iram esse brevem insaniam. Scimus actos labores esse jucundos. Nuntius dixit hostes tela conjicere. Nuntius dixit hostium equites tela in nostros conjecisse. Galli existimant Romanos discedere. Helvetii dixerunt se omnem senatum amisisse. Caesari nuntiatum est equites Gallorum propius accedere, et lapides telaque in nostros conjicere. Exploratores Caesari dixerunt Gallos omnes discessisse. Equitatum hostium advenire videmus. Copias hostium in Provinciam pervenisse scimus. Caesar noluit eum locum vacare.

The master says that the books are useful. The master said that the books were useful. We know that Cicero was a great orator. Does the boy pretend to love (lit. that he loves) books? He said that the slaves did not obey the master. Cicero, the great orator, says that anger is the beginning of madness. The messenger says that the forces of the enemy were throwing darts on our men. Word-was-brought to Caesar that the Gauls were departing from the city. The ambassadors reported that the Helvetii had lost all their cavalry and all their senate. Was not word brought to the leader that the forces of the enemy had arrived in the Province, and were throwing darts on the cavalry? He denies that the soldiers threw stones on our men.

XXXI.

Quis negabit mundum a Deo gubernari? Dux factus est certior montem a suis teneri. Nuntius dicit Gallos victos esse. Ariovistus dixit omnes copias suas uno praelio fusas esse. Caesar memoria tenebat L. Cassium consulem occisum esse ab Helvetiis. Pyrrhi medicus promisit se regem veneno interfecturum esse. Speramus, iudices, vos Socratem innocentem non damnaturos esse. Omnes legibus parere aequum est. Pollicitus est se hodie venturum esse. Constat Romanos ab Hannibale apud Cannas victos esse. Equites renuntiaverunt castra esse munita. Certum est oppidum quod hostes oppugnant captum iri. Verisimile est praelia multa in Gallia factum iri. Poetae fingunt Latonam confugisse Delum atque ibi Apollinem Dianamque peperisse.

We do not deny that God governs the world. Did you ever deny that the world was governed by God? We were informed that the mountains were held by the enemy. Ariovistus was informed that all the forces of the Gauls had been routed by the Romans. The Romans remembered that their leader had been slain by the Gauls. We hope the king will not be cut off by the physician. He promised to inform me. It is right that we (should) obey our parents. Did the boy promise to come? It is agreed by all that Hannibal conquered the Romans at Cannæ. It is reported that the town has been fortified. It is certain that the towns, which the Gauls have fortified, will be taken. It is likely that the boy will come to-morrow.

XXXII.

Licet tibi esse beato. Ignavum poenitebit aliquando ignaviae. Me pudet poenitetque mei peccati. Nobis non licuit castris exire. Caesari placuit castra defendere. Me oportet hoc facere. Miseret me tui. Mihi ire licet. Non mihi ire libet. Sapientem non pudet fateri se res multas nescire. Omnium interest vera dicere. Interest tua recte facere. Taedet me vitae. Non mea refert. Me non solum piget stultitiae meae, sed etiam pudet. Taedet me eadem semper audire. Caesarem oportet ad Ariovistum venire. Mihi negligenti esse non licet. Ariovistus dixit, Caesarem oportere ad se venire. Licet nemini peccare. Decet pueros esse diligentes. Quid mea refert? Magni mea refert. Annon latro-nem facinoris poenitet? Puer dicit se peccati poenitere.

We may be more happy. The king will never repent of his clemency. Will not the boys repent of their indolence? We pitied the poor. It behoves you to live well and act rightly. Who does not weary of adversity? I am not only grieved at, but also ashamed of, my folly. Are you not ashamed to pretend that you have read those books? I do not choose to walk in the field. It is the interest of all to obey the laws. It is your interest to live well. It is always our interest to keep our promises. I might have gone into the house. He told the boy that it behoved him to be diligent. Of what importance is it to you? It is of very little importance to us. Did not the man repent of his fault? The consul has long been grieved at the folly of the citizens. The hostages told Galba that the camp ought to be defended.

XXXIII.

Labiens, monte occupato, nostros expectabat. Natura duce, errari non potest. Augustus natus est, Cicerone et Antonio consulibus. Pythagoras, Tarquinio regnante, in Italiam venit. Concilio dimisso, principes ad Caesarem reverterunt. Caesar, opere perfecto, praesidia disposuit. Caesar, duobus bellis confectis, in hiberna exercitum duxit. Hannibal, ineunte vere, bellum redintegravit. Scipio, bello Punico confecto, Romam revertit. Augusto regnante, vixit Virgilius. Hoc dicto, regem interfecit. Cognito Caesaris adventu, Ariovistus legatos ad eum mittit. Nullo hoste prohibente, Crassus legionem in fines Helvetiorum perduxit, ibique hiemavit. Helvetii, omnibus vicis oppidisque incensis, de finibus suis exierunt. Senatu convocato, Cicero literas recitat quas de conjuratione acceperat.

Having occupied the mountains (lit. the mountains being occupied), the leader waits for Labienus. When the sun rises (lit. the sun rising), darkness disappears. Under your guidance (lit. you the guide) we cannot err. Christ was born in the reign of Augustus (lit. Augustus reigning). (With) Caesar (for their) leader the soldiers will conquer. The Germans crossed the Rhine in the consulship of M. Messala and M. Piso. On the meeting being dismissed, Divitiacus returned to the army. Having conquered the Gauls, Caesar set out for Rome. In the beginning of summer the Gauls renew the war. In the consulship of Cicero Catiline made a conspiracy. Having learned of the arrival of the enemy, he led out his forces from the camp. As no enemy hindered, Caesar led his army across the Rhine.

XXXIV.

Romani erant victores de Carthaginiensibus in tribus bellis. Romulus septem et triginta regnavit annos, Numa tres et quadraginta. In legione Romana erant cohortes decem, manipuli triginta, centuriae sexaginta. Copiae Helvetiorum erant viginti millia peditum et sex millia equitum. Copiae hostium viginti millia passuum aberant. Roma condita est anno ante Christum natum septingentesimo quinquagesimo tertio. Augustus mortuus est anno post Christum natum decimo quarto. Consul legionem decimam in castra reducit. Pater filiis binos libros dedit. Caesar bina castra munivit. Nobis sunt terni libri. Galli duas partes copiarum amiserunt. Homerus annis multis vixit ante Virgilium. Mortuus est abhinc annis sex. Puer est minor duodecim annis natu. Scipio erat bis consul, Marius septies. Sex millia hostium caesa sunt.

Tiberius reigned twenty-three years. There are three hundred and sixty-five days in the year. The Gauls had fifteen thousand foot and ten thousand horse. The enemy was sixteen miles distant. The first king of Rome was warlike, the second loved peace, and the seventh was unjust and proud. Julius Cæsar was slain forty-four years before the birth of Christ. Tiberius died thirty-seven years after the birth of Christ. The tenth legion fought well. The soldiers fought for ten hours. The father gives each of his sons three books. The two camps were taken. The general had lost three-fourths of his army. The king died four years ago. This boy is below ten years of age, but his brother is more than twelve. Hannibal conquered the Romans three times. He was five times consul.

XXXV.

Hic murus est decem pedes altus et tres pedes latus. Dux tria passuum millia ab urbe castra posuit. Turris pedes centum alta est. Tridui viam processit. Turris pedibus ducentis est altior quam murus. Aquae montes altissimos quindecim cubitis transcederunt. Quo diligentior est puer, eo doctior evadet. Pater est viginti annis senior filio. Romae multos annos reges creabantur. Scipio, Hannibale victo, Romam revertit. Cicero Arpini natus est. Apud Cannas Romanos vicit Hannibal. Rex Athenas profectus est. Athenis multos annos vixit. Tarquinii pater Corintho fugit. Hannibal Carthagine natus est. Delphis Apollinis oraculum fuit. Puer domum rure reversus est, et domi manebit. Abiit rus, et vivet rure. Canis humi jacet. Dux domi militiaeque illustris fuit.

The walls were twenty feet high, four feet broad, and two hundred feet long. The forces of the enemy were twenty miles from the city. The soldiers advanced a two days' march. The house was ten feet higher than the wall. The sun is many times (pars) larger than the moon. The man is thirty years older than the boy. The more learned you are, the more will men praise you. We lived at Rome two years, and then set out for Athens. Hannibal, having conquered the Romans, returned to Carthage. Virgil was born at Mantua. He died at Brundisium. Atticus lived at Athens. We have returned home from the country. The boy stays at home.

XXXVI.

Puer venit ut discat. Multi alios laudant, ut ab aliis laudentur. Miles enitetur ut vincat. Hannibal magnum exercitum in Italiam ducit, ut cum Romanis pugnet. Hannibal magnum exercitum in Italiam duxit, ut cum Romanis pugnaret. Stellarum tanta multitudo est, ut numerari non possint. Nemo est tam stultus, ut haec credat. Accidit ut terga verterent. Helvetii persuadent Rauracis et Tulingis, ut, oppidis suis vicisque exustis, domo proficiscantur. Orgetorix persuasit Castico, ut regnum in civitate sua occuparet. Dux milites suos cohortatus est, ut castra noctu defenderent. Cura ut diligenter discas. Ut ameris, ama. Te rogo atque oro ne hoc facias. Milites, ne ab hostibus circumvenirentur, summa vi pugnaverunt. Caesar Labieno imperavit ne praelium committeret.

We read that we may learn. We did not praise others that we might be praised by them. Strive, boys, to understand these books. Cæsar led a large army into Gaul in order that he might obtain possession of that country. The general exhorts his soldiers to make haste. The general exhorted his soldiers to resist the enemy. The boy will strive to please his parents. The Rauraci and the Tulingi were persuaded to set out from home. Cæsar, having conquered the Gauls, persuaded them to lay down their arms. The Romans were so powerful that they conquered all Gaul. We beseech you not to come. The Romans, that they may not be surrounded by the Gauls, have joined battle.

XXXVII.

Dux imperat ut milites stationes suas servant. Dux imperavit ne milites stationes suas desererent. Edimus ut vivamus, non vivimus ut edamus. Sequani obsides dederunt, ne itinere Helvetios prohiberent. Tantus timor totum exercitum occupavit, ut omnium animi perturbarentur. Tanta tempestas subito coorta est, ut naves cursum tenere non possent. Sequitur ut non possim Galbae confidere. Oppidum natura loci sic muniebatur, ut Caesar id expugnare non posset. Auxiliorum adventu tanta rerum commutatio facta est, ut nostri fortius pugnarent, atque hostes repellerent. Dux militibus dixit, quo fortiores essent, eo celerius hostes victum iri. Eo opere perfecto, Caesar castella communit, quo facilius Helvetios prohibeat, quominus per Provinciam transeant.

The two generals commanded the soldiers to cross the river, and pursue the enemy. Had not the general commanded the soldiers to keep their stations? The Sequani will give hostages not to attack the Helvetii on (their) march. So great fear had seized the soldiers that they were unable to fight. Did it not follow that the master could not believe these slaves? The brave citizens have so fortified the town that it cannot be taken. The general erected forts that he might the more easily keep off the forces of the enemy. Caesar exhorted his soldiers to make more haste, that they might overtake the enemy. So great was the army that it could not be resisted.

XXXVIII.

Non dubito, quin milites nostri urbem expugnaverint. Non dubitabam, quin milites nostri urbem expugnassent. Non dubito, quin milites nostri urbem expugnaturi sint. Non est dubium, quin turpius sit fallere quam falli. Non potest negari, quin sit turpe mentiri. Germani retineri non poterant, quin in nostros tela conjicerent. Minimum abfuit quin frater meus periret. Nemo est tam bonus, quin interdum peccet. Quis dubitat, quin milites pro patria pugnaverint? Helvetii non dubitant, quin Romani Aeduis libertatem erepturi sint. Caesar

Gallos prohibuit, quominus flumen transirent. Per Galbam stetit, quominus hostes oppidum occuparent. Quid obstat quominus puer sit beatus? Nemo me impedit, quominus id faciam. Hiems prohibuit, quominus Romam irem.

We do not doubt that the city has been taken. We did not doubt that the general had taken the city. There is no doubt that our men will overcome the forces of the enemy. The Gauls could not be restrained from fighting. No one doubted that the forces of the enemy fought very bravely. No parent is so base as not to love his own children. No one can deny that it is disgraceful to deceive friends. Who doubts that God governs the world? There was no doubt that the Gauls had gained a victory. It cannot be denied that the world is governed by God. No one will prevent the Gauls from crossing the Rhine. What will prevent the boys from being happy? It was owing to you that I did not lose all my property. Who can prevent us from walking in the garden? Nothing ought to prevent us from obeying the laws.

XXXIX.

Quid puer agit? Rogo quid puer agat. Quid puer egit? Rogo quid puer egerit. Rogavi quid puer ageret. Rogavi quid puer egisset. Rogavi quid puer agat. Quid puer acturus est? Rogo quid puer acturus sit. Dic mihi, cur non discas. Caesar cognoscere non potuit quantae essent hostium copiae. Unde venis? Puerum rogabo unde venerit. Quot estis? Rogabo quot fuerint. Quamdiu manebis? Nescio quamdiu mansurus sim. Qualis est natura montis? Scisne quam moleste id tulerit? Utrum ea vestra an nostra culpa est? Nescio utrum ea vestra an nostra culpa sit. Utrum Romani an Galli vicerint incertum est. Puer ex patre quaesivit quis omnium Graecorum sapientissimus esset. Dux legatum speculari jussit, num hostes flumen Rhenum transirent. Dux me interrogavit, quomodo hostes impetum fecissent. Caesar legatum interrogavit quot milites vidisset. Quis nobis dicere potest, num Galli in aciem iterum prodituri sint?

What are you doing? I ask what you are doing. What did you do? We ask what you did. I asked what you had done.

How many are there of us? Can you tell me how many there were of you? He did not know how long his father had lived at Athens. He asked me what kind of horses the king had. Tell the general why the soldiers did not fight. Caesar learned how great the forces of the Gauls were. It is uncertain whether our forces have conquered or have been conquered. We do not know whether the Gauls have conquered the Germans or not. Ask the general how many soldiers he has. Ask him how many soldiers he had. We cannot understand how so great an army was conquered by so few forces. We shall see how the troops will conquer the barbarians. I do not know whether I shall stay at home or go to Athens.

XL

Legati ad Caesarem veniunt rogatum auxilium. Principes civitatum ad Caesarem gratulatum convenerunt. Dux quinque cohortes frumentatum misit. Galli, pacem petitum, oratores Romam mittunt. Athenienses Delphos miserunt consultum oraculum. Divitiacus Romam ad senatum venit auxilium postulat. Facile auditu est. Difficile factu est. Nefas est dictu. Juveni parandum, seni utendum est. Pars equitatus, praedandi causa, missa est. Spatium arma capiendi non datum est. Consilium inierunt Romam proficiscendi. Aqua utilis est bibendo. Homo ad intelligendum et ad agendum natus est. Imperator diem ad deliberandum sumit. Imperator dixit, se diem ad deliberandum sumpturum esse. Inter scribendum discimus. Virtutes cernuntur in agendo. Mens discendo et cogitando alitur. Potesne docendo discere? De fugiendo deliberant. Jucundius est regere laudando quam culpando. Hic puer est cupidus audiendi.

The citizens came to (lit. into) the temple to invoke the gods. Our friends have gone to walk in the fields. The tenth legion was sent to collect corn. Ambassadors were sent to the senate at Rome to ask for peace. Let the boy be sent home to consult his father. He came to me to inquire what was to be done. A true friend is difficult to be found. These things are very easy to be done. The general gave the enemy time to lay down their arms.

Night will put an end to the fighting. We are all born to learn. The generals will take ten days for deliberating. The general said that he had taken ten days for deliberating. We strengthen the body by walking. Do not read while eating. The two generals deliberated about fighting. Are you weary with writing, girls? All are not desirous of learning. Have you not a desire to live (lit. of living) well?

XLI.

Scribendum est mihi. Scribenda est mihi epistola. Deus nobis diligendus est et timendus. Virtus colenda est nobis. Caesari omnia uno tempore agenda erant. Haec fecerunt, quo paratiores ad omnia pericula subeunda essent. Ad hunc locum muniendum milites a duce vocantur. Judices dixerunt poenas a servis dandaq̃ esse. Caesar pontem reficiendum curat, quo exercitum transducatur. Omnes urbis portae claudendae sunt. Hortandi sunt pueri ad virtutem. Autumnus ad agros metendos idoneus est. Nulla spes erat potiendi castris. Caesar peritissimus fuit belli gerendi. Dux sibi latius distribuendum exercitum putat. Fortitudo in laboribus periculisque subeundis cernitur. Ciceroni in arduis temporibus gerenda erat respublica. Utrum amandi an timendi reges sunt? Non credendum est mendaci. Caesari uno tempore milites revocandi erant, acies instruenda, signum dandum. Militibus de navibus desiliendum erat. Sui cuique iudicio utendum est.

We must read. You must read useful books. We ought to love and honour our parents. The Romans had to carry on two wars at the same time. The Helvetii will do these things that they may be the better prepared to defend their country. The master says that he is ready to dismiss all the servants. The general will cause the city to be attacked, and darts to be thrown on the inhabitants. Bridges must be built, and the army led across the river. Do the chiefs know how great dangers must be encountered in finishing this war? Caesar had to send ambassadors to Rome. Virtue is not only to be cultivated, but is also to be loved. Who doubts that promises ought to be kept? We must not believe all men. The master says that this book ought to be read by all the scholars. He said that we must all read these books. I must use this paper. The conquered ought to be spared by the conquerors. Word must be brought to the general how many legions have to be resisted.

XLII.

Quum Romani duas clades in Hispania accepissent, duoque ibi summi imperatores cecidissent, eo proconsul missus est. Post cladem Cannensem Romani exercitus reliquiae Canusium per-fugerunt; quumque ibi tribuni militum quatuor essent, tamen omnium consensu ad Publium Scipionem summa imperii delata est. Quum deinde pacem Antiochus a Romanis petere vellet, legatos Romam misit. Quum res ita se haberent, bellum tandem confectum est, et milites domum redierunt. Quum Caesar in Citeriore Gallia esset, crebri rumores ad eum afferebantur, Belgas in armis esse; quod quum ei dictum esset, duas legiones novas conscripsit. Vix eo pervenerat, quum Remi ad eum legatos miserunt, qui dicerent se paratos esse obsides dare. Quum primum hoc audivit, Remos cohortatus est, principumque liberos obsides ad se adduci jussit.

When this defeat was reported, the consul was sent to command the army. Since these things are so, we must return home as quickly as possible. When the battle was fought, the enemy betook themselves to flight, and the victorious army pursued them. When the king died, an assembly was called that another king might be elected. The ambassadors having asked peace of Cæsar were ordered to tell their countrymen that hostages would be demanded. Since the Helvetii were unable to defend themselves, they went to ask help of their neighbours. Cæsar, when he had conquered Pompey, passed over into Asia to see what was doing there. We ought to assist those who stand in need of help. Scarcely had he said these words when a messenger arrived. As soon as he arrived here, he announced that a battle had been fought on the banks of the river. Since the work is finished, let us play.

EDUCATIONAL WORKS.

ENGLISH READING, GRAMMAR, ETC.

In the initiatory department of instruction a valuable series of works has been prepared by Dr M'CULLOCH, formerly Head Master of the Circus Place School, Edinburgh, now Minister of the West Church, Greenock.

DR M'CULLOCH'S SERIES OF CLASS-BOOKS.

These Books are intended for the use of Schools where the general mental culture of the pupil, as well as his proficiency in the art of reading, is studiously and systematically aimed at.

They form, collectively, a progressional Series, so constructed and graduated as to conduct the pupil, by regular stages, from the elementary sounds of the language to its highest and most complex forms of speech; and each separate Book is also progressively arranged,—the lessons which are more easily read and understood always taking the lead, and preparing the way for those of greater difficulty.

The subject-matter of the Books is purposely miscellaneous. Yet it is always of a character to excite the interest and enlarge the knowledge of the reader. And with the design of more effectually promoting his mental growth and nurture, the various topics are introduced in an order conformable to that in which the chief faculties of the juvenile mind are usually developed.

That the moral feelings of the pupil may not be without their proper stimulus and nutriment, the lessons are pervaded throughout by the religious and Christian element.

They will be found to include Class-books for Junior and Senior Classes in all the branches of History generally taught in the best schools. While the utmost attention has been paid to accuracy, the narratives have in every case been rendered as instructive and pleasing as possible, so as to relieve the study from the tediousness of a mere dry detail of facts.

CORKRAN. With Maps and Genealogical and Chronological Tables, and comprehensive Questions to each Chapter. New Edition, with the History continued. 2s. 6d.

Athenæum.—"A cheap and excellent history of England, admirably adapted for the use of junior classes. The various changes that have taken place in our constitution are briefly but clearly described. Athenæum.—"A carefully compiled history for the use of schools. EDINBURGH ACADEMY CLASS-BOOKS.

THE acknowledged merit of these school-books, and the high reputation of the seminary from which they emanate, almost supersede the necessity of any recommendation. The "Latin" and "Greek Rudiments" form an introduction to these languages at once simple, perspicuous, and comprehensive. The "Latin Rudiments" contain an Appendix, which renders the use of a separate work on Grammar quite unnecessary; and the list of anomalous verbs in the "Greek Rudiments" is believed to be more extensive and complete than any that has yet appeared in School Grammars of the language. In the "Latin Delectus" and "Greek Extracts" the sentences have been arranged strictly on the progressive principle, increasing in difficulty with the advancement of the Pupil's knowledge; while the Vocabularies contain an explanation not only of every word, but also of every difficult expression which is found in the works,—thus rendering the acquisition of the Latin and Greek languages both easy and agreeable. The Selections from Cicero embrace the portions of his works which are best adapted for Scholastic tuition.
